John Serres was here from the metropolis several days last week transacting business.

Sam Stahl, after a short and sweet vacation in old Sonoma, has returned to Fest's Farm.

Thomas Connolly, a San Francisco policeman, is spending the week at one of our local resorts.

A large number of our local sportsmen bagged the limit of quail on the opening day.

E. O. Gates of Sonoma left for Fresno last Friday morning to assume a civil service position.

T. H. Baines, our local real estate man, was on a business trip in the metropolis several days last week.

Frank Burris and mother arrived on Friday morning's S. P. train from the southern part of the state.

Frank Benjamin has gone to Los Angeles to learn a trade and his many friends here wish him much success.

Charley Miller, our white horse, is matched to box Carl Morris 10 rounds in New York City, November 10th.

J. Serres, our efficient young roadmaster, is a busy man these days rounding the roads into first-class shape.

Wm. Mullen, bookkeeper for the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, was the guest of his folks here Sunday.

Howard Phillips, well-known poultry man, is in the Bay City at a hospital, undergoing an operation caused from a bad tooth.

John Bacgaup has resigned his position at Graham's Cash Store, Boyes Springs, and is now engaged once more in tilling the soil.

The many friends of Austin Moore will be sorry to learn that the son is on the sick list, but under the able care of Dr. Thomson is rapidly recovering.

Traveling passenger agent Corrigan of the S. P. Co., was here the other day visiting the different resorts in regard to their advertisements for next season.

The entertainment at Sonoma Saturday evening for the benefit of St. Francis' Church attracted a large crowd from this place, who greatly enjoyed the fine talent from San Francisco.

Miss Mabel Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Leonidas Lewis and the late L. L. Lewis, passed away in the metropolis recently. Miss Lewis formerly resided here and was a native of California.

The Elks, two hundred strong, took Boyes Springs by storm last Saturday evening. They traveled by automobile from San Francisco and made things lively in the valley during their stay.

The Jewish holiday was observed here Saturday by the numerous Jewish families in the western addition and all work was suspended for the day. A feast and general celebration was held Sunday.

Jimmie Sterling, formerly of Sonoma, left for Woodland one day last week, where he will make his future home. It has been Jimmie's intention to locate in a dry town as it is rumored that he has turned a prohibitionist. We hope that this change will do him good.

Frank A. Riser, former superintendent of the P. I. Co., but late of the company's office, San Francisco, has resigned his position and is now engaged in the real estate business at Woodland. He has selected a dry town to start with and we wonder if he will succeed. This is his second venture in business for himself.

Louis Lamotte was in Santa Rosa Saturday.

Miss Nellie O'Brien was up from the city last week.

Mrs. L. L. Lewis was up from Berkeley Saturday and Sunday.

A. Nevrbaum of Los Angeles is a guest this week at the El Verano Villa.

Professor Collins of the Grammar school biked to Petaluma Friday afternoon.

The big talk here is about the new electric railway, which it is rumored will come through the Sonoma valley.

C. L. Lowrey and Ken Weaver, prominent business men of this place, transacted business in the Exposition City the latter part of last week.

Willie Johnson and Byron Weaver seem to be enjoying a winter flirtation. With top buggies they are going some and don't seem to care how dark it is.

John and Dutch Vincent were on a fishing expedition in Sausalito Sunday. The boys caught a fine mess and remembered their friends on landing home.

The world series base ball games between the Giants and Athletics created a great deal of excitement among our local ball fans. A number of wagers were made and our barber, John Basilou, seemed to be the live sport in this line.

There is some talk of opening up new streets here. If this should be the case, Oak street in the southern part of town, ought to be the first, as it would prove a great accommodation to the traveling public. It is the opinion of the writer that all would be in favor of such an improvement.

Pop Hardy, ground keeper at Recreation Park, San Francisco, will be at Boyes Springs right after the close of the season to make improvements on the ball grounds, such as planting a lawn, etc. Pop expects to remain all winter and intends to have the grounds in keeping with Recreation Park. Cal Ewing has advised him to spare no expense in the work and to go through with the matter as though the park was to be a permanent home for the Seals.

That Water Suit.

Editor Index-Tribune:

In the semi-weekly Santa Rosa Republican of Oct. 10th, under the head of Sonoma items, the suit against the S. V. L. W. P. Co. (Lewis water system) is referred to, and the statement intimated that the majority of the Board of City Trustees acted with good sense and that they were not known as weak-kneed or limber-backs when they voted in favor of that suit. The hold-over members of this majority awhile back spent hundreds of dollars of the taxpayer's money in arrangements to give this city better fire protection (the records will show this.) Now comes the proposition to bring suit, the intent of which is to practically put the Lewis water system out of business here. The minority, Mr. Dal Poggetto and myself, not being of the same calibre as referred to above as the majority, voted no. Now, just imagine Mr. Taxpayer, this majority using your money to build a house, after your money was spent, then to use some more of your money to tear it down. The two propositions as far as the taxpayers are concerned are practically the same.

Let the motive behind this suit be told.

No one has appeared before the Board and no public demand has been made on the Board of City Trustees to bring this suit.

Respectfully,
Geo. Breitenbach,
Sonoma, Cal., Oct. 15th, 1913.

A Sad Fatality.

A sad fatality occurred in San Francisco, Friday morning of last week, in the accidental death of little Mary La Torres, niece of Chas. La Torres of Sonoma. The baby girl was playing in front of her home, and running into the street was run over by a Castro street car. It required the united efforts of several men to raise the car from the frightfully mangled child. Little Mary was but twenty-seven months old, and a lovable, winsome child, whose cruel, untimely taking away has desolated the hearts and home of her parents. The funeral occurred Sunday, and was attended by Chas. and Robt. La Torres, of Sonoma.

Visiting in New York.

Mrs. Carrie H. Burlingame, the splendidly-capable and deservedly popular chief executive of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, is enjoying a trip to New York—En route, Mrs. Burlingame was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Blake, who had for the past three months been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hannah S. Appleton. Mrs. Blake has started on her homeward trip to London, England. On her return trip, Mrs. Burlingame will be accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Charles, who is well and favorably known in Sonoma, having spent last winter at the home of her niece, Mrs. Appleton.

Hay Market.

Receipts of hay continue about the same, the total for the week amounting to 2435 tons in comparison with 2341 the week previous. Comparatively little of the recent arrivals consisted of rail hay, the greater portion being either alfalfa or grain hay from the island districts of which there is not a great deal left out of doors, so that we can probably anticipate somewhat lighter arrivals in the near future.

Local trade in hay continues very quiet; there is some little demand for fancy wheat hay and fancy red oat hay but there is very little of these qualities being brought in. Alfalfa continues to be offered in large quantities from the various producing districts of the State which ship by rail, but there is so little demand for this alfalfa locally that there is practically none moving. As is usual during the harvest season the river alfalfa supplies the local demand almost exclusively.

Evangelist Meetings.

A. F. Sutter and Tom Graham the noted Evangelists, are holding revival meetings in the F. Duhring building on Napa street, formerly the old garage every evening. The public is invited. On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 Tom Graham, by request, will lecture from the last chart on the plan of the ages. Don't fail to hear this lecture. He's a live wire. Luke 14:17. Seats free. No collection.

Send your letter heads, envelopes, business cards, etc., to the Index-Tribune. We will print them right and our prices will be right.

BIGELOW LOSES OUT IN HIS LAWSUIT.

Judge Seawell Decides Against Him and He Must Pay Costs of the Suit.

Bigelow is again a loser. This time in his law suit with E. O. Gates, whom he sued to recover $721 on an alleged account which in reality Gates never owed him. The suit is a relic of the wet and dry fight started in this Supervisorial district by Bigelow last Fall. Gates was his man "Friday" on that occasion, but when Bigelow refused to pay him for acting as his tool in that contest, they became bitter enemies, hence the suit decided by Judge Seawell last Saturday. His decision follows:

"Plaintiff and defendant were co-workers and co-operators in what is known as the 'wet' and 'dry' movement in the first Supervisorial District. Recently they had personal difficulties and neither has much regard for the other. Their financial difficulties grow out of an alleged contract to engage in the business of raising chickens. From this enterprise their business relations ramified. Plaintiff claims to have advanced a considerable sum of money to defendant, and defendant claims to have earned a daily stipend by reason of his personal services given to what is known as the 'dry' cause. Quite a sum of money, which it is claimed was advanced, and lost on the result of the election held under the act commonly called the 'Wyle Local Option Act,' figured in the adjustment of the financial troubles between said parties."

"A number of charges are made by each of the parties against the other. They are such charges as might be expected to follow alleged breaches of political alliances."

"The burden is upon each to establish his claim against the other. The Court is of the opinion that it would not be justified in taking money from the one and giving it to the other, when all the facts and circumstances of the case are considered together. The evidence is in substantial support of a judgment for either. In such a case the court is of the opinion that it would leave the parties where it found them. By this it is not meant that either is discredited. The court does state, however, that it cannot justify itself under the peculiar circumstances of the many transactions shown by the evidence in giving a judgment to either."

"Neither party will take anything by his action, and defendant is allowed his costs. It is so ordered."

A Prominent Visitor

Mrs. Grace Caukin and little daughter returned to their home in Berkeley, Sunday morning, after a few days spent in Sonoma. Mrs. Caukin is prominently identified with club work about the bay, and is also an active politician, giving faithful, intelligent service to the cause she espouses. The many friends of the lady, hope she will receive the appointment of Deputy Commissioner of Immigration, for which she is in line.

A Delightful Event

One of the most enjoyable events of recent occurrence was the dancing party given at Woodmen's Hall, Friday night of last week. Mrs. Wm. Von Hacht, and the Misses Jeanette and Elmira Hansen, and Agnes Moss had the affair in charge and proved themselves capable, painstaking hostesses. The hall had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, and about twenty couples responded to invitations to attend the delightful event. During the evening, games contributed to the merry-making, and dancing was indulged in. Mrs. R. E. Lynch, providing splendid music. At midnight the guests repaired to the dining-room, where, on prettily appointed tables, delectable refreshments were served. Dancing was then resumed, and not until the wee sma' hours did the jolly company reluctantly disperse.

Congregational Church, Oct. 19

Morning worship, 11 a. m. When a man tries to hold himself up to a higher standard he fails and to maintain his esteem. He dismisses the matter from his mind and drifts. He lets go of his ambition to be better and does the best he can. Sparks fly upward for they must. A man who does not conquer himself will go downward, for he must. He who has no respect for himself has none for others. The best cure for the cynic of his fellows is to know himself; to know how hard it is to keep himself straight. The man that knows himself is kind to others and merciful in his judgments. This is the kind of talk you will get by coming to church Sunday morning.

Evening worship at 7:30. Sunday evening I want to tell you what is the inside difference of the man who is a Christian. He is not a fine piece of architecture. He is a fine flower in different stages of growth. He is not a beautiful hitching post to which you can tie beautiful dogmas. He is a grower, a becomer and will become superior to an angel. He keeps shedding his skin even if it hurts as a snake does. The progressive man likes to increase his knowledge. Come along on Sunday night and give unto God the glory due his name.

The church choir will give an old folks concert in the church on Tuesday evening, October 21. They dress in the style of days gone by when slit skirts were not thought to be decent and peek-a-bo and transparent gowns were not in vogue. Every man in this show decides what the admission fee to him may be in a silver offering.

T. M. Price, Pastor.

Narrow Escape.

Mr. Sullivan, who purchased the John Watt place, south of town, had a miraculous escape from serious injury Sunday morning. He was driving a lively colt, when the animal became unmanageable, and capsized the buggy. Mr. Sullivan and his sister, Mrs. O'Brien, who was with him, were thrown out, but very fortunately escaped without injury. The buggy was badly wrecked.

As the Press Sees California.

The comprehensive idea of the state's development and progress as gleaned by the editors of the California Press Association on their recent excursion is of much interest to every reader of the various publications for it will re-enforce the steadily growing confidence in California's unparalleled future. It will not be forced home upon us by the vast influx of strangers who will come through our gates never to return from whence they came to dwell permanently, but it is obvious to most Californians even now that we who are here already may reap a rich harvest if we but make the most of our opportunities and have faith in the stored up bounty of this matchless land. It will yield more bounteously when wooed by the enthusiastic workers from other climes but it is now responding to the splendid spirit abroad among our own people who are welcoming the world to share its endless possibilities.

The visit to the Exposition City and the Panama-Pacific site by the Golden Gate convinced every observer that for natural setting and environment the San Francisco Fair will have never been excelled. The progress being made by the able management seems to insure the opening of the celebration on scheduled time and there is no doubt that the architecture and design of the exhibits will be magnificent. Already the green esplanade is velvety and beautiful and borders the white surged ocean with enticing beauty. The blue hills of Marin county and stately Tamalpais beckon across the blue for recognition, which will be theirs, for the scenic grandeur of Marin will come into its own. To the west the presidio with its barracks and Fort Point lend a substantial and inspiring charm, for they are symbolic of the protection which is to be guaranteed those who come to dwell under our flag beneath this glorious Western sky. To the northeast are the locations of the immigration station and detention hospital on Angel Island, important adjuncts to our future wellbeing. The activity on land and water is most impressive and going up the Oakland harbor one realizes the progress of this fast growing city with its vast issue of bonds for substantial work on its water front, the sixteen story city hall and the amazing expenditure of private capital in such magnificent structures as the Hotel Oakland.

Going down the Peninsula through attractive San Mateo county into the matchless Santa Clara and then to the Pajaro valley one seems to see nature trying to outdo itself in its countless yield of tree and vine. Knowing what our own Sonoma County can do in the way of apples, it was more than a thrill of satisfaction to see the magnificent display of fruit at Watsonville and to realize that California has at least two sections so favored that it seems impossible that the apple industry can ever know more perfect homes. Sebastopol and Watsonville with their annual exhibits divide the crown. Behind the exhibits of the marvelous yield in these sections is the remarkable spirit of progress and exploitation and one of the prominent boosters at the Watsonville show was a direct descendant of the easy going first day Californian who has long since forgotten the "monyano" slogan of his fathers and thinks there is no day like the present to reap the rich harvest which is here right now in this most famed land of the world.

So say we all of us!

CELESTE GRANICE MURPHY.

They gave us chicken, 'till we thought we'd die.

There is nothing can compare with California air!
California greeting!
We sure had a good meeting!

MARIN SUPERVISORS CALENDAR DAY IN COME THROUGH THE SUPERIOR COURT

Meet Sonoma County Half Way and Unanimously Vote to Appropriate $15,000 for Black Point Cut Off

At the recent session of the Board of Supervisors of Marin county its members voted unanimously to meet Sonoma county half way in the Black Point Cut-Off proposition and appropriated $15,000 toward carrying out the undertaking. As Sonoma county had already voted an equal sum, this appropriation gives the project $30,000 to start in with and Napa county is still to be heard from. As the latter county will receive more benefit from the cut-off than either Sonoma or Marin it is fair to assume that Napa will come through with at least $15,000, too.

The El Verano Development Association, which numbers among its members the live and progressive element of the entire Sonoma Valley, is more than gratified with the splendid results achieved since it took up the proposition four or five months ago, and that the Black Point Cut-Off will be put through by the Association is now assured without a preadventure of doubt.

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Association was held in the City Hall here last Wednesday evening, at which were present President Jas. Baines, Thos. Baines, Jos. Keechler, Mayor M. E. Cummings, Judge Jas. Campbell, Dr. A. M. Thomson, Frank Sprague, Wm. J. Kearney and H. H. Granice. The matter of securing rights of way building the road and constructing a bridge across Petaluma creek were discussed among other things. Mayor Cummings who presided over the meeting, appointed a committee composed of Dr. A. M. Thomson, H. H. Granice and Jos. Keechler to make arrangements for meeting and entertaining the State Highway Commissioners, who are expected here Sunday to take a look at the proposed new highway that means so much to Sonoma, Napa and Marin counties.

At the recent Mechanics Fair held in San Francisco the Gundlach-Bundschu Wine Company of Rhinefarm, east of this city, made a splendid display of wines, which won for it a beautiful silver loving cup at the hands of the committee on awards. For years the Gundlach-Bundschu Wine Company has been making a display of its wines at the various fairs and expositions held in this State and elsewhere and has never yet failed to win recognition for the bouquet and quality of its red and white dry wines.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The first quarter of the school year ends next week. That means exes and report cards, as a consequence Cicero is very busy so the H. S. news this week will be rather brief.

Portola comes next week and there will be such an exodus of pupils from S. U. V. H. S. that the high school Board rather than have a school of empty benches, have declared a holiday on Friday, October 24. Therefore we are very grateful to the Trustees for the chance to visit San Francisco and also to recover from the exes. Most of the pupils wish that Portola would come about four times a year.

Our new auditorium is in sight at least the plans are. Several San Francisco architects have submitted plans and three different sets are now being considered. If all goes well by the first of the year we shall have a hall of our own for High School plays, entertainments and basket ball. The architecture will be of Old Mission style and will make a fit annex for the school. The hall, including the balcony, will seat about 600. It will have a large and commodious stage, dressing rooms and the latest improved movable seats.

At the annual meeting of the boys athletic association of the Sonoma High School, J. H. Weise was elected manager and J. J. Cann Captain of the Basket Ball Team for the season of 1913-14. The chances for a good team are excellent. Many of the Freshmen having played the game in the Grammar School are already well developed. The upper class talent is plentiful and the people of Sonoma are sure to see a winning High School team this year.

Prunes Come High

The Santa Rosa Press Democrat says in its Thursday's issue:

"Talk about the productiveness of Sonoma county land.

Louis Kunde, the well-known vineyardist and orchardist, whose fine farm is near Kedwood, came to town and deposited in a local bank a check for $963.15, which represented payment for a crop of prunes from one acre and a half. Can you beat this?

Farmers all over Sonoma county have received top notch prices for their products.
